Aims and Scope

Pharmacology Research & Perspectives invites authors to submit research articles and invites submission of several types of special articles. These are:

1. Target validation - publication of negative findings
   - including preclinical papers that show a hypothesis is incorrect
   - or papers on drugs that have failed in early clinical development
2. Drug discovery reviews
   - strategy, hypotheses and data resulting in a successful therapeutic drug
3. Frontiers in translational medicine
   - drug and target validation for an unmet therapeutic need
4. Pharmacological hypotheses
   - reviews that are oriented to inform a novel hypothesis

Pharmacology Research & Perspectives publishes papers submitted directly to the journal and those referred from the prestigious journals of BPS and ASPET.
